In Remembrance of a Fallen Hero

By Nichole M. Aranda
Copper Area News

On Monday, June 16, 2025, family, friends and loved ones, along with officers from Hayden Police Department, were joined by the Phoenix Police Department Honor Guard to honor the memory and to celebrate 50 years of remembrance of a fallen hero, Officer Gilbert R. Chavez.

In the late hours of June 16, 1975, Officer Gilbert Chavez was shot and killed by one of two juveniles during a burglary of a radiator business near 20th Ave. and Jefferson St. in Phoenix. Officer Chavez had entered the business after dispatchers received an anonymous tip that a burglary was in progress. The officer located one of two suspects, and a struggle ensued. Officer Chavez was shot near the heart and critically wounded but managed to exit the building and get to his patrol vehicle to radio for help. His partner who arrived shortly after was also shot and wounded.

Officer Chavez was a 1971 graduate of Hayden High School and had served with the agency for one year. Gilbert was survived by his wife, Virginia Cruz. His memory has lived on through Virgie, Gilbert’s family, friends, community, and fellow officers of Phoenix Police Department.

Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one’s life for one’s friends. -John 15:13

No fireworks for SaddleBrooke

Following the devastation of the Cody Fire and given the extreme heat and lack of rain, Pinal County will not allow SaddleBrooke One HOA to host the annual fireworks show on the Fourth of July.

At a meeting of the Pinal County Board of Supervisors on June 18, Pinal County Sheriff Ross Teeple rescinded his prior approval of a fireworks display permit application submitted by Fireworks Productions of Arizona on behalf of SaddleBrooke One, originally planned for July 4, 2025.

This was done in light of the devastation of the Cody Fire in Oracle.

Teeple explained that because SaddleBrooke is in unincorporated Pinal County, this type of show would need to be approved by the county. The County Board of Supervisors were scheduled to approve the permit at the June 18 meeting, but the item was withdrawn from the agenda after hearing testimony from the county emergency manager and the fire chief of Golder Ranch Fire District.

The state fire marshal, Teeple told the supervisors, reported that they dropped $3.1 million in slurry on the Cody Fire. This doesn’t include what Oracle Fire Department paid in man hours and equipment, he added.

Golder Ranch Fire District Chief Tom Brandhuber said that his department approved the fireworks display initially but that was before the Cody fire and extreme

This report contains important information about your drinking water.
Este informe contiene información importante sobre su agua potable.
Tradúzcala o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

Arizona Water Company provides groundwater to its Oracle and SaddleBrooke Ranch customers from wells located in the Oracle Junction and SaddleBrooke Ranch area.

All water samples are collected by state-certified employees of Arizona Water Company. Samples are analyzed by state-certified independent laboratories and the results are forwarded to the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality (“ADEQ”). The following report provides detailed information about the quality of the water delivered to customers. The water supplied by Arizona Water Company complies with all state and federal safe drinking water standards and regulations.

Your drinking water complies with the USEPA safe drinking water standard for arsenic, though it contains low levels of arsenic. USEPA's safe drinking water standard balances the current understanding of arsenic's possible health effects against the costs of removing arsenic from drinking water. USEPA continues to research the health effects of low levels of arsenic, which is a mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations and is linked to other health effects such as skin damage and circulatory problems.

The Lead Service Line Inventory for this system has been prepared and can be viewed online via an interactive map at: <https://> lead-service-line-inventory-4-azwaterco.hub.arcgis.com/. AWC submitted inventories for all of our water systems by the deadline of October 16, 2024. ADEQ determined the initial Lead Service Line Inventory for this water system was incomplete. Once notified by ADEQ of its determination, AWC supplied additional information to include all service connections for this water system, returned to compliance and issued the required public notice. AWC has not identified any lead service lines and meets or exceeds the standards for lead in drinking water at all our systems.

Note: In addition to the constituents listed in this report, Arizona Water Company and ADEQ conducted monitoring for over 80 additional constituents and the results show none of those constituents were detected in the water. Data presented are from the most recent testing done in accordance with applicable regulations. Some constituents are monitored less frequently than once a year because either their concentrations do not change frequently or they are not likely to be detected. Therefore, some of the water quality testing data contained herein, although representative, may be more than one year old. If you have questions about this water quality report please contact the Environmental Compliance Manager, Arizona Water Company, P.O. Box 29006, Phoenix, Arizona 85038-9006; telephone (602) 240-6860 or email mail@azwater.com.

In 2003, ADEQ completed a Source Water Assessment of the water sources used by Arizona Water Company's Oracle water system. ADEQ reviewed the adjacent land uses that may pose a potential risk to the water sources. The result of the Assessment was a low risk to the water sources.

The complete Assessment is available for inspection at ADEQ, 1110 West Washington Street, Phoenix, Arizona 85007, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Electronic copies are available from ADEQ at recordcenter@azdeq.gov. For more information, visit ADEQ's Source Water Assessment and Protection Unit website at: www.azdeq.gov/node/735.

The USEPA and ADEQ require Arizona Water Company to provide the following information:

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. The presence of constituents does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about constituents and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the USEPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to constituents in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. USEPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial constituents are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radiological material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Constituents that may be present in source water include:

- Microbials, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
- Inorganics, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses.
- Organics, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are byproducts of industrial processes and petroleum production. They can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.
- Radiological material, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, USEPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain constituents in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for constituents in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Lead can cause serious health effects in people of all ages, especially pregnant people, infants (both formula-fed and breastfed), and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and parts used in service lines and in home plumbing. Arizona Water Company is responsible for providing high quality drinking water and removing lead pipes but cannot control the variety of materials used in the plumbing in your home. Because lead levels may vary over time, lead exposure is possible even when your tap sampling results do not detect lead at one point in time. You can help protect yourself and your family by identifying and removing lead materials within your home plumbing and taking steps to reduce your family's risk. Using a filter, certified by an American National Standards Institute accredited certifier to reduce lead, is effective in reducing lead exposures. Follow the instructions provided with the filter to ensure the filter is used properly. Use only cold water for drinking, cooking, and making baby formula. Boiling water does not remove lead from water. Before using tap water for drinking, cooking, or making baby formula, flush your pipes for several minutes. You can do this by running your tap, taking a shower, doing laundry or a load of dishes. If you have a lead service line or galvanized requiring replacement service line, you may need to flush your pipes for a longer period. If you are concerned about lead in your water and wish to have your water tested, contact Arizona Water Company, P.O. Box 29006, Phoenix, Arizona 85038-9006; telephone (602) 240-6860 or email mail@azwater.com. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available at <https://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

“Right now, I can’t stand before you and say there would be no risk,” he said.

Pinal County Emergency Management Director Kore Redden also addressed the board, stating that she also was concerned about the heavy fire fuel in the area and the lack of fire suppression.

“I cannot place an undue burden on the vital and limited federal, state and local fire resources as well as our county law enforcement for a 20-minute fireworks display,” Redden said.

“There are other options ... drone displays, laser displays that are very beautiful and will show our patriotism on this historic date without putting the community in peril due to wildfire.”

Supervisor Jeffrey McClure, who attended the board meeting telephonically, said that the Cody Fire was devastating for the community of Oracle. “I would hate to see anything like that happen in SaddleBrooke,” he said.

In accordance with A.R.S. § 36-1603(B), which requires Sheriff approval for issuance of fireworks permits, the item was withdrawn from the Board’s agenda as the Board no longer had legal authority to take action on the permit Public safety remains the County’s top priority.

Incorporated towns like Superior and Kearny make their own determination for fireworks displays.

Arizona Water Company provides groundwater to its San Manuel customers from water supplied by BHP Billiton.

All water samples are collected by state-certified employees of Arizona Water Company or by the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality (“ADEQ”). Samples are analyzed by state-certified independent laboratories and the results are forwarded to ADEQ. The following report provides detailed information about the quality of the water delivered to customers. The water supplied by Arizona Water Company complies with all state and federal safe drinking water standards and regulations.

Your drinking water complies with the United States Environmental Protection Agency’s (“USEPA”) safe drinking water standard for arsenic, though it contains low levels of arsenic. USEPA’s safe drinking water standard balances the current understanding of arsenic’s possible health effects against the costs of removing arsenic from drinking water. USEPA continues to research the health effects of low levels of arsenic, which is a mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations and is linked to other health effects such as skin damage and circulatory problems.

The Lead Service Line Inventory for this system has been prepared and can be viewed online via an interactive map at: <https://lead-service-line-inventory-4-azwaterco.hub.arcgis.com/>. AWC submitted inventories for all of our water systems by the deadline of October 16, 2024. ADEQ determined the initial Lead Service Line Inventory for this water system was incomplete. Once notified by ADEQ of its determination, AWC supplied additional information to include all service connections for this water system, returned to compliance and issued the required public notice. AWC has not identified any lead service lines and meets or exceeds the standards for lead in drinking water at all our systems.

Note: In addition to the constituents listed in this report, Arizona Water Company and ADEQ conducted monitoring for over 80 additional constituents and the results show none of those constituents were detected in the water. Data presented are from the most recent testing done in accordance with applicable regulations. Some constituents are monitored less frequently than once a year because either their concentrations do not change frequently or they are not likely to be detected. Therefore, some of the water quality testing data contained herein, although representative, may be more than one year old. If you have questions about this water quality report please contact the Environmental Compliance Manager, Arizona Water Company, P.O. Box 29006, Phoenix, Arizona 85038-9006; telephone (602) 240-6860 or email mail@azwater.com.

In 2004, ADEQ completed a Source Water Assessment of the water sources used by Arizona Water Company’s San Manuel water system. ADEQ reviewed the adjacent land uses that may pose a potential risk to the water sources. The result of the Assessment was a low risk to the water sources.

The complete Assessment is available for inspection at ADEQ, 1110 West Washington Street, Phoenix, Arizona 85007, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Electronic copies are available from ADEQ at recordscenter@azdeg.gov. For more information, visit ADEQ’s Source Water Assessment and Protection Unit website at: www.azdeg.gov/node/735.

The USEPA and ADEQ require Arizona Water Company to provide the following information:

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. The presence of constituents does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about constituents and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the USEPA’s Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to constituents in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. USEPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial constituents are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radiological material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Constituents that may be present in source water include:

- Microbials, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
- Inorganics, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses.
- Organics, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are byproducts of industrial processes and petroleum production. They can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.
- Radiological material, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, USEPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain constituents in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for constituents in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Lead can cause serious health effects in people of all ages, especially pregnant people, infants (both formula-fed and breastfed), and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and parts used in service lines and in home plumbing. Arizona Water Company is responsible for providing high quality drinking water and removing lead pipes but cannot control the variety of materials used in the plumbing in your home. Because lead levels may vary over time, lead exposure is possible even when your tap sampling results do not detect lead at one point in time. You can help protect yourself and your family by identifying and removing lead materials within your home plumbing and taking steps to reduce your family’s risk. Using a filter, certified by an American National Standards Institute accredited certifier to reduce lead, is effective in reducing lead exposures. Follow the instructions provided with the filter to ensure the filter is used properly. Use only cold water for drinking, cooking, and making baby formula. Boiling water does not remove lead from water. Before using tap water for drinking, cooking, or making baby formula, flush your pipes for several minutes. You can do this by running your tap, taking a shower, doing laundry or a load of dishes. If you have a lead service line or galvanized requiring replacement service line, you may need to flush your pipes for a longer period. If you are concerned about lead in your water and wish to have your water tested, contact Arizona Water Company, P.O. Box 29006, Phoenix, Arizona 85038-9006; telephone (602) 240-6860 or email mail@azwater.com. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available at <https://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

PCSO lends a hand to neighboring county

It’s good to know your neighbors have your back especially in an emergency.

On June 19, 2025, the Pima County Sheriff’s Department (PCSD) Search and Rescue Unit responded to a call for a stranded hiker on Butterfly Trail on Mt. Lemmon. A female hiker had become severely dehydrated and was unable to make her way back to the trailhead on her own.

PCSD’s helicopter, (Sheriff 1) was initially dispatched to assist with the rescue. Due to extreme heat conditions, it was determined that attempting the hoist rescue would pose significant safety risks to both the crew and the aircraft.

In response, Pima County reached out to their partners at the Pinal County Sheriff’s Office because of their access to a larger and more powerful Huey Helicopter. They were able to safely extract the hiker and transport her to a secure location.

Hiking in extreme heat is not only dangerous for those venturing out, but also places significant stress and risk on Search and Rescue Units and air crews. The high temperatures can jeopardize both human safety and the performance of vital equipment.

Officials at both counties are asking the community and visitors to please avoid hiking during periods of excessive heat. Your safety—and the safety of the first responders—depends on it.

Arizona Water Company (the “Company”) has released its 2024 Water Quality Report (Consumer Confidence Report “CCR”) for its Winkelman water system, PWSID 04-003. The Company will not be mailing a copy of the CCR to its customers, because Arizona Administrative Code R18-4-117, granted a mailing waiver to small water systems with a population less than 10,000 people. Copies are now available: at the Oracle office located at 470 E. American Avenue; via mail by sending a request to Arizona Water Company, P. O. Box 5209, Oracle, AZ 85623; via our website at www.azwater.com; or by calling the local office at 520-385-2226. The CCR is also printed in the newspaper today. The Company recommends that customers serving more than one housing unit post a copy of the 2024 CCR in a conspicuous place.

– 2024 ANNUAL WATER QUALITY REPORT FOR WINKELMAN, ARIZONA, PWSID NO. 04-003 –

This report contains important information about your drinking water.
Este informe contiene información importante sobre su agua potable.
Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

Arizona Water Company provides groundwater to its Winkelman customers from wells located in Winkelman.

All water samples are collected by state-certified employees of Arizona Water Company or by the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality (“ADEQ”). Samples are analyzed by state-certified independent laboratories and the results are forwarded to ADEQ. The following report provides detailed information about the quality of the water delivered to customers. The water supplied by Arizona Water Company complies with all state and federal safe drinking water standards and regulations.

Your drinking water complies with the United States Environmental Protection Agency’s (“USEPA”) safe drinking water standard for arsenic, though it contains low levels of arsenic. USEPA’s safe drinking water standard balances the current understanding of arsenic’s possible health effects against the costs of removing arsenic from drinking water. USEPA continues to research the health effects of low levels of arsenic, which is a mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations and is linked to other health effects such as skin damage and circulatory problems.

Arizona Water Company is publishing this notice to inform its customers about the presence of Per- and Polyfluoroalkyl Substances (“PFAS”) in drinking water. The test dates and test results are shown in the table above. Water systems have until 2029 to comply with PFAS chemical MCLs; wells with levels of PFAS chemicals above standards were not used to serve water to customers since 2023.

The Lead Service Line Inventory for this system has been prepared and can be viewed online via an interactive map at: <https://> lead-service-line-inventory-4-azwaterco.hub.arcgis.com/. AWC submitted inventories for all of our water systems by the deadline of October 16, 2024. ADEQ determined the initial Lead Service Line Inventory for this water system was incomplete. Once notified by ADEQ of its determination, AWC supplied additional information to include all service connections for this water system, returned to compliance and issued the required public notice. AWC has not identified any lead service lines and meets or exceeds the standards for lead in drinking water at all our systems.

Note: In addition to the constituents listed in this report, Arizona Water Company conducted monitoring for over 80 additional constituents and the results show none of those constituents were detected in the water. Data presented are from the most recent testing done in accordance with applicable regulations. Some constituents are monitored less frequently than once a year because either their concentrations do not change frequently, or they are not likely to be detected. Therefore, some of the water quality testing data contained in this report, although representative, may be more than one year old. If you have questions about this water quality report please contact the Environmental Compliance Manager, Arizona Water Company, P.O. Box 29006, Phoenix, Arizona 85038-9006; telephone (602) 240-6860 or email mail@azwater.com.

In 2000, ADEQ completed a Source Water Assessment of the water sources used by Arizona Water Company’s Winkelman water system. ADEQ reviewed the adjacent land uses that may pose a potential risk to the water sources. ADEQ determined that activity on adjacent land use poses a high risk to two water sources. Arizona Water Company regularly monitors drinking water sources to make sure your drinking water complies with the Safe Drinking Water Act.

The complete Assessment is available for inspection at ADEQ, 1110 West Washington Street, Phoenix, Arizona 85007, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Electronic copies are available from ADEQ at recordscenter@azdeq.gov. For more information visit ADEQ’s Source Water Assessment and Protection Unit website at: www.azdeq.gov/node/735.

The USEPA and ADEQ require Arizona Water Company to provide the following information:

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. The presence of constituents does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about constituents and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the USEPA’s Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to constituents in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. USEPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial constituents are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radiological material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Constituents that may be present in source water include:

- Microbials, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
- Inorganics, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses.
- Organics, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are byproducts of industrial processes and petroleum production. They can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.
- Radiological material, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, USEPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain constituents in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for constituents in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Lead can cause serious health effects in people of all ages, especially pregnant people, infants (both formula-fed and breastfed), and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and parts used in service lines and in home plumbing. Arizona Water Company is responsible for providing high quality drinking water and removing lead pipes but cannot control the variety of materials used in the plumbing in your home. Because lead levels may vary over time, lead exposure is possible even when your tap sampling results do not detect lead at one point in time. You can help protect yourself and your family by identifying and removing lead materials within your home plumbing and taking steps to reduce your family’s risk. Using a filter, certified by an American National Standards Institute accredited certifier to reduce lead, is effective in reducing lead exposures. Follow the instructions provided with the filter to ensure the filter is used properly. Use only cold water for drinking, cooking, and making baby formula. Boiling water does not remove lead from water. Before using tap water for drinking, cooking, or making baby formula, flush your pipes for several minutes. You can do this by running your tap, taking a shower, doing laundry or a load of dishes. If you have a lead service line or galvanized requiring replacement service line, you may need to flush your pipes for a longer period. If you are concerned about lead in your water and wish to have your water tested, contact Arizona Water Company, P.O. Box 29006, Phoenix, Arizona 85038-9006; telephone (602) 240-6860 or email mail@azwater.com. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available at <https://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Resolution Copper Project moves forward with re-release of key federal documents

The U.S. Forest Service has re-released the Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) and Draft Record of Decision (DROD) for the Resolution Copper Project, restarting the federal permitting process after a two-year pause. The documents were officially published in mid-June, triggering a 45-day public objection period before a final decision can be made. This re-release FEIS and Draft ROD comes after a several-year delay when the Biden Administration halted the final review of the documents in March of 2021.

This action follows a federal court ruling that temporarily halted the Oak Flat land exchange, emphasizing the need for further public engagement and tribal consultation. The Forest Service is required to respond to all objections within 90 days, meaning a Final Record of Decision could come as early as this fall.

Despite forward movement, the project remains under judicial review, with two active lawsuits filed by tribal and environmental groups (San Carlos Apache Tribe and Center for Biological Diversity) still pending in federal court. While the U.S. Supreme Court recently declined to hear an appeal in the Apache Stronghold religious freedom case, lower court injunctions remain in effect, delaying the land transfer until litigation is resolved.

The Town of Superior has taken an active role in ensuring that this project is a net positive for the community and the broader Copper Corridor. Town officials have worked over the past decade to navigate the complexities of the permitting process and to advocate for long-term benefits, including infrastructure improvements, environmental protections, and sustainable economic development. Town Manager Todd Pryor is currently re-reviewing the documents and it is expected that the Superior Town Council will study any findings and address them during their July meeting.

In parallel, the Superior Community Working Group—a diverse, locally driven coalition—has met regularly since 2012 to review project impacts, raise concerns, and make recommendations. The group includes representatives from local government, businesses, environmental organizations, and tribal communities. Their work has helped shape mitigation efforts, community benefits agreements, and provided a platform for informed, transparent dialogue. The group recently announced that it will return to monthly meetings. The group has been instrumental in developing the Good Neighbor Agreement.

The Resolution Copper Project proposes an underground mine just outside Superior that could become one of the largest copper producers in North America. Local and federal stakeholders continue to weigh the cultural, environmental, and economic implications of the project as it moves through the permitting and legal process.

Residents are encouraged to review the reissued FEIS and submit objections or comments during the 45-day window currently underway. The 3,700 page document is available online: <https://www.resolutionmineeis.us/>

Public Notice

Opportunity to Object to the Resolution Copper Project and Land Exchange and Project-Specific Forest Plan Amendment

The Tonto National Forest has prepared a final environmental impact statement (FEIS) and a draft Record of Decision (ROD) for the Resolution Copper Project and Land Exchange near Superior, Arizona. The FEIS document discloses the potential environmental effects considered, including the mining proposal and all connected actions, the project-specific plan amendment, and the land exchange. The only decision to be made by the Forest Service is limited to approval of ancillary infrastructure (road, power and pipelines) on National Forest System land associated with the Resolution Copper Project. The project-specific forest plan amendment would except the activities approved as part of the selected Federal action, namely the powerline, pipeline, and road use from complying with the specified plan components.

The FEIS, draft ROD, and supporting documentation are available online at: www.ResolutionMineEIS.us. Additional information can be obtained from Michelle Tom, Forest Engineering and Minerals Staff Officer at comments-southwestern-tonto@usda.gov

How to file an objection, and timeframe

This proposed project and associated project-level forest plan amendment are subject to the objection process pursuant to 36 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 218 Subparts A and B. The forest plan amendment only applies to the project and will be approved in a decision document approving the project. Objections to the Resolution Copper Project will only be accepted from those who have previously submitted timely comments regarding this project proposal during a designated opportunity for public comment, unless based on information not available during an earlier designated opportunity for public comment (i.e., new information).

Objections on the Resolution Copper Project must be submitted within 45 calendar days following the publication of the legal notice in the Arizona Capitol Times. The date the legal notice is published in the Arizona Capitol Times is the exclusive means for calculating the time to file an objection. A copy of this legal notice will be posted on the website (link provided above) once published. Those wishing to object should not rely upon dates or timeframe information provided by any other source.

A timely submission will be determined by USPS postmark; the agency's electronically generated posted date and time for electronic submission; or shipping date for delivery by private carrier. It is the objector's responsibility to ensure timely filing of a written objection with the reviewing officer pursuant to §218.9. All objections are available for public inspection during and after the objection process.

Electronic objections may be submitted using the Public Comment Form at <https://cara.fs2c.usda.gov/Public/CommentInput?Project=48956>. Electronic submissions, including attachments, must be submitted in a format (Microsoft Word, portable document format (PDF), or rich text format (RTF)) that is readable and searchable. Written objections may be submitted by mail to: Reviewing Official, Regional Forester, filed via mail or express delivery to 333 Broadway Boulevard SE, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87102.

At a minimum, an objection must include the following: (1) The objector's name and address, along with a telephone number or email address if available; (2) Signature or other verification of authorship upon request (a scanned signature for electronic mail may be filed with the objection); (3) Identification of the lead objector, when multiple names are listed on an objection, and verification of the identity of the lead objector, if requested. Individual members of an entity must have submitted their own individual comments in order to have eligibility to object as an individual. Additional requirements are included below.

The reviewing officer must set aside and not review an objection when one or more of the following applies: (1) it is not filed in a timely manner; (2) the proposed project or forest plan amendment is not subject to the objection procedures; (3) the individual or entity did not submit timely and specific written comments or substantive formal comments during opportunities for public comment; (4) except for issues that arose after the opportunities for comment, none of the issues included in the objection are based on previously submitted written comments and the objector has not provided a statement demonstrating a connection between the comments and the objection issue; (5) the objection does not provide sufficient information as required; (6) the objector withdraws the objection; (7) an objector's identity is not provided or cannot be determined from the signature, and a reasonable means of contact is not provided; or (8) the objection is illegible for any reason, including submissions in an electronic format different from that specified in the legal notice, and (9) the responsible official cancels the objection process underway to reinstate the objection procedures at a later date or withdraw the proposed project or activity.

How to object to the Resolution Copper Project

In addition to the identifying information outlined above, written objection comments on the proposed project must include (1) the name of the proposed project (Resolution Copper), the name and title of the responsible official (Ericka Luna, Deputy Forest Supervisor), and the name(s) of the National Forest or District on which the proposed project will be implemented (Tonto National Forest); (2) a description of those aspects of the proposed project addressed by the objection, including specific issues related to the proposed project; if applicable, how the objector believes the environmental analysis or draft decision specifically violates law, regulation, or policy; suggested remedies that would resolve the objection; and supporting reasons the reviewing officer should consider; and (3) a statement that demonstrates the connection between prior specific written comments on the particular proposed project or activity and the content of the objection, unless the objection concerns an issue that arose after the designated opportunities for comment. Incorporation of documents by reference is permitted only as provided in §218.8(b).
